17.22.010 Purpose of the commercial land use districts.

The commercial area is divided into two land use districts for the purpose of providing an appropriate geographic distribution of businesses and services of varying intensity and community impacts. The primary goal of these districts is to preserve and protect the predominantly residential character of the community by providing a balanced mix of commercial and residential uses in accordance with the General Plan. This goal is achieved by: (1) locating the more intense commercial activities in the core of the commercial area; (2) providing a transition from intense uses in the commercial core to less intense uses in the residential districts; (3) encouraging a mix of commercial, residential and community activities throughout the commercial area; (4) controlling the type and distribution of similar uses among different districts; and (5) prohibiting those activities which conflict with the protection of the commercial area, but which can be provided elsewhere in the community. (Ord. 614 § 2, 2004).

44 17.22.020 Commercial land use districts established.

17.22.030 Commercial land use districts descriptions.

A. The downtown commercial district (DC) provides an area for a broad range of uses which generate high pedestrian traffic and which do not have large space requirements, including retail businesses, personal services, offices, eating places, visitor accommodations, and similar uses. Mixed residential-commercial uses are an important component of the DC district to ensure an economically and socially vibrant downtown that is intended for, and enjoyed by, residents and visitors alike. For this reason, incentives are provided to encourage residential development above the street level to include, but not be limited to, exempting the residential portion of a mixed-use development from the allowable floor area ratio standards. To retain the rural, small-town character of the DC district, development shall maintain the compact gridiron street pattern and be designed to provide parking screened from public view. Additionally, development shall apply varying building mass and architectural treatments, limit front setbacks and curb-cuts, and encourage pedestrian-oriented design elements.

B. The community commercial district (CC) provides an area at the edge of the downtown commercial core and at the intersection of Petrified Forest Road and Foothill Boulevard, which are similar to those activities in the DC district, but because of their size or relatively low pedestrian traffic generation are appropriate for the CC district. These uses predominantly provide for the day-to-day needs of residents, and because of their operational characteristics and space needs (i.e., storage, size, required parking, etc.) they are considered appropriate for the CC district. Uses in the CC district include services, offices, restaurants and limited retail activities. The CC district is also intended to provide a distinct transition between the more intense activities in the DC district and the less intense activities in the residential districts adjacent to the commercial area. Therefore, mixed residential-commercial uses are appropriate in the CC district, with residential development allowed on both the street and upper levels. New visitor accommodations in the CC district shall generally be allowed where they are part of a mixed-use project that provides tangible benefits to the community. (Ord. 614 § 2, 2004).

630 4. Unless the proposed use conflicts with standards for the entry corridor, that new 631 construction, additions, alterations and expansions comply with the required dimensional

- 637 stations, "big box" retail, and other commercial centers with strip retail characteristics that 638 are inconsistent with the small-town characteristics of Calistoga.
639
640 6. That adequate setbacks are provided and sufficiently landscaped to preserve the rural

643 trees visible from the roadway are retained and enhanced.

646 fenestration, and colors, are simple, compatible within the context of surrounding uses
647 and buildings, are compatible with Calistoga's small-town rural character, and provide a
648 small scale and understated visual appearance. Low-rise buildings may be allowed 649 provided they are consistent within the character of the neighborhood and are oriented to 650 the public right-of-way.
651
652 8. Walls, fences and low berms are landscaped and include materials and design that 653 complement the character of the surroundings.

657 replaced with new vegetation.
658
659 10. Unique natural features, including the traditional design character of historic buildings,
