Paul Holm Statement: Qualifications/Contributions for the Napa County Local Food Advisory Council

As a small farmer, grape grower and wine maker living in Calistoga for almost 20 years, I bring a unique perspective on small farming in the Napa Valley. On my Garnett Creek Farm in Calistoga, I raise chickens, olives, bees and grapes. I make small lots of extra virgin olive oil, organic honey and single vineyard wines from the Napa Valley. I practice sustainable farming and strive to meet organic and bio-dynamic principles. Please see my website: www.sebrightcellars.com.

I grew up in San Francisco and have lived in Calistoga since 2000. My family grew grapes in the Alexander Valley for many decades starting in the late 1960's -- exposing me to many agricultural and grape growing issues. I was active in 4-H and currently support youth ag activities through my Board membership on The Sebright Club of America.

As a consumer and frequent diner in local restaurants, I am a strong supporter of the farm-to-table movement, organic/bio-dynamic and sustainable farming. I also have investment experience in a number of local restaurants and am familiar with sourcing and other demand side issues relating to local sourcing.

In my earlier professional career, I ran a branding and marketing firm that included several agricultural clients, helping them with political and policy issues. My firm specialized in strategies and branding. My professional experience will be an asset in the Council's research and evaluation needs.

Having gone to Cal and lived in Calistoga and in San Francisco, I have an extensive network of local friends, former classmates and clients. I also belong to a number of social and civic clubs in Napa and San Francisco. My professional background, personal history and connections will be an asset to the Council's need for networking and facilitating.

I look forward to the opportunity of serving on the Council to help with the goals, strategies and execution of plans to help the local food economy.
